

Medical Gas FDA Enforcement Activities on the Rise

Is your business ready to handle your next FDA inspection?

Many company owners think they are OK, only to find out otherwise when FDA shows up. Just because you have not had a problem in the past is no guarantee your business meets FDA requirements.

The leading FDA medical gas citations include inadequate cGMP documentation, inadequate Standard Operating Procedures, & inadequate employee training.

As a business owner some of the best compliance insurance you can get is the B&R Compliance Associate's mock FDA audit and on-site cGMP training. Finding and fixing your compliance problems yourself is much more cost effective, than under the scrutiny of an FDA inspector.

Our industry leading services have helped hundreds of GAWDA members all over the country avoid being surprised during their next FDA or state agency inspection.

ON-SITE MOCK FDA AUDIT

B&R auditors, who are recognized as some of the industries leading authorities on medical gas compliance, can perform a mock FDA audit & assess the adequacy of your compliance program, and suggest changes so you can begin updating your compliance program to meet new and expected changes in FDA requirements.

ON-SITE cGMP TRAINING

B&R trainers are acclaimed by GAWDA members as some of the best trainers in the gases industry. They can perform on-site training to satisfy your annual CGMP Training requirements. Training options include basic cGMP for med gas fillers, QC Unit training, and cGMP training just for drivers and counter people.

For 2008 we are making the best even better. B&R is offering a 2008 SPRING TUNE-UP sale. Save 10% off the normal B&R rate for all training and audit visits booked by May 1, 2008.
